

2030 LPG INCIDENT CONTROL

Objective

To provide the necessary theory and practical skills required for persons to safely and efficiently handle incidents involving liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) as per NFPA 58 the Liquid Petroleum Gas Code.

Prerequisite

None

Target group

- The primary target group for this course is emergency responders from public safety and industrial organizations.
- Firefighters and Hazardous Materials Response Teams.
- Emergency Medical Services, Rescue Squads, and Emergency Management, or Law Enforcement Agencies.
- On the industrial side, the course is intended for Propane Marketers, Propane Industry Product and Container Specialists.
- Private Environmental or Emergency Response Contractors.

Methodology

Classroom and student activities. There is a written test.

Content

- Codes
- Container design
- Bulk storage plants and tanks
- Tactical response guidelines
- Physical characteristics
- Bulk transport
- Emergency response procedures
- Product removal

Certification

A certificate of attendance shall be issued upon successful completion of the course.

Enrollment

Minimum 10 students

Maximum 30 students

Duration

2 days (1 weekend)

Location

Propane emergencies shall be done at the Nova Scotia Firefighters School, or another suitable location.

Note

The recommended manual for this course is Propane Emergencies 2nd Ed